

SERVICES TO-MORROW

Mass-Meeting of the Episcopal Congregation.

AN ILLUSTRATED SERMON

Rev. Mr. Staley Will Employ Drugs and So On—New Organ to Be Presented to Union Station—Dr. Cecil's Subject.

A mass meeting of all the Episcopal congregations of the city will be held to-morrow night at St. Paul's Church in the interests of the work of the City Missionary Society.

This is the first public meeting of the society held for some time, and it will be made a most interesting occasion. It is desired that the importance of the mission work be gotten plainly before the people, with a view to enlisting their attention. To this end addresses will be delivered and statements of the plans and purposes of the organization will be made. Bishop Robert A. Gibson, president of the society, will preside over the meeting. Among the speakers will be the Rev. Dr. John M. Moore, city missionary, and the Rev. Dr. W. E. Evans, rector of Monumental.

A service of unique interest will be held in the morning at 10 o'clock at the Broad Street Memorial Baptist Church. The occasion will be given over to the children, about fifty of whom will participate. Pastor C. P. Staley will preach on "Sin and Its Penalty," and will illustrate his sermon with drugs and chemicals. At night the subject of Mr. Staley will be "Who Will Be First and Who Last?"

The new organ presented by the Sunday-school to Union-Station Church will be formally presented by the school to the church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Mr. Charles E. Brauer, superintendent, will make the presentation. Mr. R. S. M. Valentine, rector, will preside, and the choir will sing. The school will conduct the exercises on that occasion.

This will be followed on Thursday evening, the 12th, by an organ recital and concert, in which the best local talent of the city will be engaged.

The organ cost $3,000, of which amount there has been already raised $1,000. It is run by an electric motor. It was put up by Mr. Muller, of Hagerstown.

The Rev. J. G. McAllister, of Union Theological Seminary, will preach in the morning at the Second Presbyterian Church. In the afternoon the pulpit will be filled by Dr. Russell Cecil, who will preach the second of a series of sermons on "The Seven Letters in Revelations." The subject for the occasion will be "The Letter of the Church at Smyrna."

Rev. R. B. Eggleston will preach at the Third Presbyterian Church to-morrow at 11 A. M. and 8 P. M. At night he will preach the second of a series of sermons on "The Business Man's Standpoint."

Dr. W. R. L. Smith will preach morning and night at the Second Baptist Church.

The Rev. Frank L. Wells, of Randolph College, will preach at the Pine-Street Baptist Church Sunday, February the 8th, at 8 o'clock P. M. All are cordially invited to attend this service. No rented pews; seats free.

At the night service at Trinity Methodist Church the Rev. George H. Spooner will preach a special sermon to the White Ribboners.

Dr. R. P. Kerr will preach morning and night at the First Presbyterian Church.

Dr. James P. Smith, of this city, will preach to-morrow in Bon Air.

The revival services which have been in progress at the West-End Baptist Church, Grove Avenue and Meadow Street, for a week past, will be continued during next week. Rev. Mr. Garland, the well-known Virginia evangelist, has been preaching every night this week and holding Bible reading meetings at 4 o'clock every afternoon. These meetings have been well attended, and the interest is deep and abiding. Services will be held to-morrow night and every night next week. The afternoon meeting will be held at 4 o'clock, lasting one hour.

MRS. W. B. PIZZINI

A Successful Operation Performed

Upon Her at Virginia Hospital.

An operation lasting four hours was performed on Mrs. W. B. Pizzini at the Virginia Hospital yesterday afternoon by Drs. Edward McGuire, Hugh M. Taylor and George Ross.

Mrs. Pizzini stood the operation well, and her recovery is considered assured. She was very seriously injured in an automobile accident at Asbury Park last summer. One of her limbs was broken, and the surgical treatment received was not successful.

Mrs. Pizzini is one of the most popular young matrons of Richmond, and deep interest is felt in her condition.

Supreme Court.

The proceedings in the State Supreme Court yesterday were as follows:

Sun Life Association of Canada vs. Bailey. Argued by B. Rand Welford for appellee and submitted.

Richmond Passenger and Power Company vs. Stager. Argued by Henry Taylor for appellant, and Wyndham H. Meredith for appellee and submitted.

City of Richmond vs. Sittler. Argued by H. H. Pollard for appellant and H. B. Bloomberg for appellee and continued until Monday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

U. O. T. Meet To-Night.

Richmond Council, No. 150, United Commercial Travelers, which holds its regular meetings on the second and fourth Saturday nights of each month at 8 o'clock, will have an important meeting to-night in Smithfield Hall.

Pickett Camp Ladies.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of George E. Pickett Camp, Confederate Veterans, will hold their regular meeting Monday, February 9th, at 8:30 P. M., at their hall, No. 307 North Seventh Street.

Don't wait until your sufferings have driven you to despair, with your nerves all shattered and your courage gone.

Help and happiness surely awaits you if you accept Mrs. Pinkham's advice. Disease makes women nervous, irritable, and easily annoyed by children and household duties; such women need the counsel and help of a woman who understands the peculiar troubles of her sex; that woman is Mrs. Pinkham, who with her famous medicine, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, have restored more sick and discouraged women to health and happiness than any other one person. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. Write today, do not wait.

Will not the volumes of letters from women who have been made strong by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound convince others of the virtues of this great medicine?

When a medicine has been successful in more than a million cases, is it justice to yourself to say, without trying it, "I do not believe it would help me?"

Surely you cannot wish to remain weak and sick and discouraged, exhausted with each day's work. If you have some derangement of the feminine organism try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It will surely help you.

Mrs. Emilie Seering, 174 St. Ann's Ave., New York City, writes:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—If women who are always blue and depressed and nervous would take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound they would find it the medicine they need to bring them to a more cheerful frame of mind. I was terribly worried and downcast, and was thin and bloodless. My back ached all the time, no matter how hard I tried to forget it or change my position to ease it, and the pain at the base of my brain was so bad that I sometimes thought that I would grow crazy; I had the blues so much and was always so depressed I could not seem to shake them off; half of the time I did not seem to have the courage to do my work; everything seemed to go wrong with me, and I was always worrying and fearing the worst. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After the first few doses a load seemed lifted from my shoulders, I felt better in every way. The blues left me and my head stopped aching; before long my back ached no more, and I looked younger and stronger. I took six bottles in all, and it is with thankfulness that I acknowledge that my present good health is due to the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

FREE MEDICAL ADVICE TO WOMEN.

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letter and signature of above testimonial, which will prove its absolute genuineness.

Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

POLICEMEN HAVE THE BEST OF IT

Man Is Foolish to Resist Arrest or Assault an Officer of the Law.

"A man always gets the worst of it when he attempts to get the best of a policeman," said Justice John yesterday, when he fined Melvin Kirby $25 and placed him under security for twelve months for resisting arrest and assaulting Officer Hughes.

The story was that the officer had been called to arrest Mr. Kirby for being disorderly at his boarding-house.

When he attempted to make the arrest he was assaulted and was compelled to use force. The result was that Kirby suffered a heavy punishment. Both men were marks of the affair.

Then came a line of old Virginia names, that brought up in the minds of those present the scenes of valor when knight-hood was in flower and when men fought each other for the smiles of the fair one.

James Spottswood (colored) was dismissed of the charge of assaulting, cursing and abusing somebody.

Joe Braxton, alias J. C. Braxton, alias J. L. Gray (colored), was sent down for ninety days for taking a lot of indecent stuff and attempting to pawn it.

Allice Morton (colored) stole a silk quilt worth $25 and was given thirty days for doing so.

Martha Ann Holland and Lucy Day were each fined $2.50 for assault.

Harry Melz and J. D. Krome were fined $2.50 each for allowing their boys to shoot a pistol in the street.

R. M. Turner, whose license for selling liquor was revoked in the Hastings case, because he was found guilty of selling on Sunday and fined by Justice John, was charged yesterday with keeping his place open and doing business without a license. The case will come up to-day, and the same steps will probably be taken that were taken in the Grolman case, which is now before the Supreme Court and which will not be reached until long after the license expires.

LIONS AND BEARS

A Fresh Consignment of Animals Received by Bostock.

Unexpectedly last night the splendid menagerie at Bostock's was increased by the arrival of six full-grown lions. Two of them are Nubians and the rest the Asiatic lion—a species which has no males.

There were also received four bears, two grizzlies and two chimpanzees. They will be put on exhibition to-day.

THE INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY-SCHOOL LESSON FOR FEBRUARY 8th

STUDIES IN THE BOOK OF ACTS. SUBJECT—The Church at Corinth—Acts XVIII, 1-11. GOLDEN TEXT—Other foundation can no man lay than is laid, which is Jesus Christ.—1 Cor., 3-11.

By Rev. J. E. Gilbert, D. D., Secretary of American Society of Religious Education.

CORINTH—After his address on Mars Hill at Athens, Paul proceeded to the city of Corinth (verse 1), which lay in a westerly direction, distant about ninety miles. Situated in the Isthmus which joins Peloponnesus to the continent, it had two harbors, one on the west, on the Gulf of Lepanto, and on the east, on the Saronic Gulf. This favorable position gave it an extensive commerce by water, while all who visited the Morn from the mainland were obliged to pass through it. Corinth was the highway of the natural and artificial trade routes of the Isthmus. With its increase in population and wealth it became luxurious and corrupt. Filled by the worship of Venus, sensuality prevailed to a most fearful extent. The arts were cultivated and its architecture, its sculptures and its vases, have a world-wide renown. In our lesson to-day this voluptuous city comes for the first into Scripture history.

ASSOCIATES—In all his ministry Paul adopted a double method, that of public declaration of the Gospel, and that of private instruction of individuals. By the latter he gained many personal friends who became earnest servants of God. Such were Timothy and Dionysius. To-day's lesson presented two others. Aquila and his wife Priscilla, who were found at Corinth. Native of Pontus, a province of Asia Minor, they had resided in Rome, but had been expelled with other Jews by order of the Emperor (verse 2). This man and woman afterward became highly useful in the Christianization of Corinth. In the year A.D. 50, they were the instructors of Apollos. Five years later (A.D. 55) they were united with Paul in salutations to the Corinthian Church (1 Cor., xvi. 19). Later they must have returned to Rome, as identified there in the church there for Paul sends greetings to them in his epistle (Romans, xvi. 2). It is evident that six years later (A.D. 61) they were again members of the Ephesian Church, of which Timothy was pastor, for Paul mentions them in his second letter, giving the wife's name first (2 Tim., iv. 19).

OCCUPATION—The missionaries of apostolic times received no salary. The right of compensation for such service was conceded, and indeed, declared and defended (1 Cor., ix. 1-14). But there was no one to pay missionaries. No missionary society raised funds and sent out men as in our day—they went because God sent (Acts, xiii. 2). And certainly the people to whom they went before contributed nothing and afterward they were bound to do so. Sides Paul had determined from the beginning to be without charge to any (1 Thess., ii. 9). Fortunately he was able to support himself. The Jews had a maxim, "He who does not teach his son handicraft to do him no good." In accordance with this sentiment he had learned the art of tent-making, and he might easily find employment in every city. Moreover, it was probably through this occupation that he had found Aquila. Entering into the home of this man the apostle worked with his hands for a livelihood (verse 3).

TEACHING—While engaged in manual labor Paul did not forget his high and holy calling. Rather he made the six days' work contribute to the one day's work. If it is not the most profitable way, it is at least the most honorable and valuable place of study. The apostle might learn the habits, the speech and the dispositions of the people about him, and he might at times hold private conversation, or even give the aid of his own tongue to the ignorant. Many eminent scholars have come out of the places of toil. But when the Sabbath came Paul entered into the synagogue (verse 4) and taught the people, both Jews and Greeks who would give the most earnest attention because his labor was gratuitous. Later, when Silas and Timothy came from Macedonia he was "pressed in spirit" that is, urged to greater diligence. That he was able to devote his whole time to teaching, and then to change the character of his discourse, and endeavored to show that Jesus was the Messiah.

OPPOSITION—The earlier preaching of Paul in Corinth being the ordinary exposition of Scripture, the custom of the Rabbis, was very acceptable. One of the later utterances in behalf of Jesus is probably here that people had heard of Jesus during his life, but that they knew not only of his death but of the subsequent hostility to his followers. In Paul's vigorous opposition to Christianity was general throughout the world (Acts, xviii. 22). So great was the antagonism among the Jews at Corinth that Paul departed from them, shaking his garment and declaring that he would no longer be held accountable (Ezek., xxxiii. 4), and that therefore after he would confine his efforts to the Gentiles. In as much as in their extreme bigotry he had espoused an offense punishable with death, he was not to be held accountable (Rom., ix. 3).

CONVERSIONS—When Paul quit the synagogue to labor among the Gentiles he had a chief ruler, "believed in the Lord" with all his house, "how many we do not know, perhaps half a dozen persons at most." That was a great victory, indeed, the proof that the preaching was forceful and convincing, as many of the Corinthians, mostly Gentiles, and possibly a few Proselytes, believed in Jesus. Paul hardly the synagogue, adhered to Paul, and he had a room in his house for the after services, and Aquila and Priscilla likewise joined the new movement, so the church at Corinth was formed. Aquila, Aquila, their wives, old children, and young children, and servants and others not mentioned, united together in the name of Jesus to advance his name. Here occurred those baptisms which were the rare feature of Paul's ministry (Acts, xvi. 33). That service being rendered by others, while he devoted himself almost entirely to the word.

A CORRECTION. Editor Times-Dispatch: Sir,—As chairman of the Committee on Police, Election and Schools, I would like the published reports of the sessions of the committee to be correct. I notice in the report of the proceedings of the committee, as published in The Times-Dispatch of yesterday morning, several mistakes. Being chairman of the committee, I made no motions. The resolutions offered by Mr. James R. Shepard were adopted on motion of Mr. William H. Zimmerman. Mr. Zimmerman also made the motion recommending to the Council that the sum of eighty-one ($81) dollars be paid to Mr. P. Jones for the month of December and January. Mr. Jones being sick and his family in needy circumstances.

THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY. Preparations to Make it One of the Biggest Meetings in Many Years. Preparations are already on foot to make the next annual session of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church one of the largest and most successful meetings in the history of the body. The Assembly will meet next in Lexington, Va. The place is a historic one and is a strong Presbyterian center. As such it will offer unusual attractions to the ministers. The Presbyteries of Lexington are bestirring themselves in good fashion to get things in readiness. They are receiving the hearty co-operation of the Assembly's committees located in this city. As yet there are no signs of what will arise to make the sessions particularly interesting this time. Things will begin to develop along this line, however, when the spring meetings of the presbyteries are held.

At the Theatres. "Winchester," the latest of war dramas, comes to the Academy next Tuesday. It was written by Edward McWade, and it deals with the late unpleasantness between the North and South. "Winchester" contains many strong dramatic situations, which are well introduced, and at times the audience is worked up to the highest pitch of excitement. The cast is headed by Miss Margaret May, who will again play the part of Virginia Randolph, "the high-spirited Southern girl," and among the supporting cast are E. L. Snader, Edward McWade, Edwin MacKay, J. W. Benson, Guy Bennett, John Gorman, Joseph Hanaway, Thomas Quinn, Florence Lytle, Mildred Manser, and others. Inquiries for seats in advance indicate crowded houses to witness this, the most popular of modern war dramas.

The sale of seats opens at the Academy this morning. A vaudeville bill of unusual merit will be the offering of Manager Wells at the Bijou Theatre next week. The bill is a variety of it is almost unique, while in point of fame every act is quite a feature. There are seven of these in all, and at least two of them are well and favorably known to almost every theatre-goer in this country. The organization is headed by Mme. Adelaide Herrmann, the queen of magic, who will be seen in her latest creation, "Magic of the Orient." After a long association with her husband, the great Herrmann, she came to this country, where he left off. Lottie Brandon, the champion bicyclist, will be seen here in her Looping the Loop act—a wonderful ride through space. But there are five other acts on this bill, and each is well known in this country. The highbrow McCoy trio, who are now in New York, featured on a strong bill; then there is Jennie Yeamans, a comedienne known particularly to the legitimate field; Sophie Burman, coloratura soprano; Leroy Woodford, comedian and vocalist; and the La Lolo brothers, acrobatic comedians.

There have been many inquiries for seats in the city next Saturday. The sale of seats will open on Monday, but there are already a large number of advance orders on file at the Academy. Kocian is said to be the most wonderful victory won in this country. The sensation made by Kocian last year has pale into insignificance compared with that aroused by Kocian. The concert will be the most rarely interesting event of the season there can be no doubt. An effort is being made to induce the artist to play in the afternoon as well as at night, but the decision has not yet been reached. "A Texas Steer" is the most successful and delightful piece the organization has yet presented. If the box office returns are as good as the organization is, it is put on with new and special scenery, and every detail of the production is as perfect as it could possibly be made. The costumes, too, are exceptionally handsome, especially those in which the comedians appear. The specialties are interesting, and the whole performance goes with all unit spirit and vim that are the characteristics of this organization. The company will leave to-night over the Seaboard Air Line for Atlanta, and will not be seen in this territory again until next season.

NATURE'S OWN CURE. Hyomel Cures Catarrh Without Dangerous Drugging of the Stomach. Not until Hyomel was discovered has it been possible to truthfully say that a remedy for catarrh was known. This remedy is breathed through the Hyomel inhaler for a few minutes four times a day, and during that time every particle of air taken into the air passages and lungs is impregnated with the germ-killing and health-giving Hyomel. It is the only treatment that cures catarrh. Stomach drugging often causes disordered digestion or brings on some other disease and never makes a permanent cure of catarrh. Hyomel not only kills the germs in the throat and nose, but penetrates to the minutest air cells in the lungs and enters the blood with the oxygen, killing the germs in the blood. It frees the mucous membrane from poisonous microbes and gives perfect health. The leading druggists of this city have so much faith in the merit of Hyomel that they agree to return the money to any purchaser who may be dissatisfied.

EXPENSIVE ONE IMPORTED FOR USE A University College of Medicine. The University College of Medicine has just received a fine imported automaton for the use of the faculty in demonstrating anatomy in that branch of teaching. This model is a perfect one of the human body in every respect, and was used in the class of anatomy for the first time yesterday. It was made in Germany, and is a fine piece of workmanship. The faculty ordered the automaton last fall for use at the present session, but it only arrived a few days ago. The cost was $300, and it is the first one ever seen in this city. This new department at the University College is a most commendable one, and the student body are delighted at the success with which it has been introduced.

ROCK ISLAND AND THE PACIFIC IN DEAL (By Associated Press.) NEW YORK, February 6.—The principals in the Rock Island, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific deal have not yet issued an official statement, nor is it likely that they will do so until the agreement has been ratified by their respective boards. It may be stated on the best authority, however, that an agreement for the control of the Rock Island and Texas Central Railroad, which includes giving the Rock Island stock in part or whole payment for the Houston and Texas Central stock bought, and this presumably means that the Southern Pacific, which has controlled the Union Pacific, will take an amount of Rock Island stock in its treasury. How much of the stock is to be taken has not been stated.
